OCTOBER 2012
ANNO SOCIETATUS XLVII

Attention Caerthens!
The Fortress has a magnificent name just like the many magnificent castles that were fortresses throughout Europe. I want to picture a different Fortress, or portion of a fortress each month. Inside I will put a little history of the castle or portion of the castle displayed on our cover.

I ask for your help. If you have a drawing or picture of a castle that you took of a favorite Fortress that you care to share, please fill out the permission form located on the Baronial web site and forward that with the drawing or picture to me at Chronicler@caerthe-sca.org. Please contact me if you have any questions.

YIS,
Jorunn nic Lochlainn

COVER PAGE: Guy's Tower named after the Saxon, Earl of Warwick. It was built in the 14th Century, completed around 1393/1394. The tower is 12 sided and has 5 storey's. It is just one of the towers in Warwick Castle built in the typical Norman mote-and-bailey style. Warwick Castle is located on the river Avon in the city of Stratford, England. The Castle was founded in the 11th century and still stands today. I visited this castle and stood on the top of this tower. Artwork by Jorunn nic Lochlainn, aka Cathie Brailey

Seneschals Report

Greetings Unto The Populace of Caerthe,

Normally I would use the space provided in our baronial newsletter to discuss business matters related to the barony. While I will be doing that herein, I will be writing this missive to address what I believe is an Unfortunate perception. The perception to which I refer is that the job of seneschalis a tedious, frustrating, painful, and thankless position. Instead I am writing this to assure you that the job is thought-provoking, rewarding,and fun.

Admittedly, I did not always believe that to be true. Indeed, when I trepidatiously assumed the office, I dreadfully thought that I was merely taking my turn and fulfilling my sentence. I used to joke that the only reason I said yes when asked to be seneschal was because simultaneously someone asked me if I wanted a beer. Alternatively, I would joke that I had too many friends and needed to lose some. I no longer make either joke.

This is not to say that as seneschal it is always smooth sailing. The job can be stressful and certainly requires quite a few extra hours of work. Those moments of despair, however, are greatly overshadowed by the wonderful opportunities and experiences that are otherwise not available.

One of the greatest opportunities afforded a seneschal, is being able to shape the direction of the group. It is possible to help particular events occur, help events come alive with a given vision, encourage or discourage expenditures, help write policies, or simply make the group more congenial.

Shaping the direction of the group also means finding the appropriate personnel for officers. In other words, it is an opportunity to put good people in a position where they can excel. Not just friends mind you, though hopefully they would be called friends, but people who have yearned to act in a particular role and for whatever reason have been overlooked. Being able to give them an opportunity to implement the changes that they want can be incredibly rewarding!

Similarly, as seneschal there is an opportunity to recommend worthy gentles for awards. As the group leader, the seneschal is in a position to really notice the efforts of individuals. Not only does it then become a duty to recommend the individual, but more credence is given to the recommendation. Helping worthy gentles receive awards for which they have strived is quite joyous!

Another joy of the office is the increased interactions. For example, when newcomers to the area or society want to make contact with the group, it is often the seneschal whom they call. In other words, as seneschal, there are opportunities to have first contact with many people. Sometimes this is a person in town for the week on business and other times it is with people who eventually become extremely active members. Some of those initial conversations are true gems!

Of course, its not just the interactions with newcomers, but also with people who have been active for many years. As seneschal there are things that you can learn about people whom you have known for years that you would not have otherwiselearned. Oftentimes, such tidbits enhance a relationship!

Being seneschal can additionally increase one's awareness of the way the SCA functions as well as the happenings in the group. Even after the better part of two decadesin the SCA, I learned many things. There were many activities that I suddenly had to at least try and people I had to see!

With all that said, it is time that I step down and am planning to do so at Tri-Baronial in March. I therefore am asking that all interested people send a letter and short resume to myself, the kingdom seneschal, and Their Excellencies within the next two months. Be assured that there is no pre-determined successor.

Do not, however, think that the bulk of this letter was an attempt to butter up some "sucker" to take the position. I wholeheartedly believe everything in here. Taking on this office is not something to dread but something to relish.

The position of seneschal is much like climbing a fourteener. At times it is extremely arduous. At times you want nothing more than to be at home with a tasty beverage. Yet the journey provides views and opportunities unafforded to those who don't take it. Even better, the feeling of accomplishment can be overwhelming.

To me, this describes what I experienced as seneschal. I am certain that when I step down, I will feel like I do after climbing a fourteener: I will not want to immediately climb another, but the desire will simmer and slowly build until another fourteener comes calling for me to climb.

YIS,
THL Jethro Stille
Seneschal of Caerthe

Request for Letters of Intent-Minister of the Lists

Unto Their Excellencies, Robert and Magge, and the populace of the Great Barony of Caerthe:

It has been my pleasure and joy to serve as Caerthen Minister of the Lists for the past two years. Much as I have enjoyed it, I will be stepping down at Caerthen 12th Night, 2013. It is time for new blood and new energy for this office.

The duties and responsibilities of this office include checking eligibility of fighters to enter the list (green and blue cards signed and up to date for everyone—no exceptions!); working knowledge of common tournament styles (round robin, double elim, etc.); run lists at local tournaments, or find a deputy when you cannot attend; report to the Caerthen Knight Marshal and Kingdom Minister of the Lists (at minimum); attend the Business Meeting once per month. Flexibility and cheerfulness are very helpful.

If you are interested in the office, please send a letter of intent to:
Their Excellencies (excellences AT caerthe-sca DOT org),
THLord Jethro (seneschal AT caerthe-sca DOT org)
THLord Avram, Kingdom MOL (mol AT outlands DOT org)
and to me (lists AT caerthe-sca DOT org), and please do direct any questions you may have to any of us.

Thank you!

Mistress Kseniya

AUGUST REPORT

Unto all who come by these letters, greetings.

I apologize for the lateness of this report: the holiday weekend, combined with changes in mundane life, threw me off.

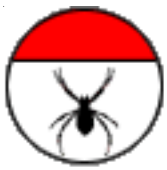
August saw a total of 870 unique visitors, 1,307 visits (averaging 1.5 visits per visitor), totaling in 39,193 hits, with 752 MB of bandwidth used. These numbers are significantly lower than last month's.

There is very little to report this month. As mentioned previously, the redesigned website went live, with access to the old site being provided by a small link on the new front page. There were very few updates outside of this, mostly minor tweaks and bugfixes. I was able to test the new website on multiple formats, including tablets and smartphones, and it appears to work (with some very minor bugs that are being researched).

I received one canton report, from Hawks Hollow.

YIS,

Rónán Supélach
Webminister, Caerthe



Greetings to the populace of Caerthe. The following is the fund distribution as of 9/1/12:

General Fund $9,317.39

Archery $652.27
Cook's Guild $53.78
Equestrians Guild $405.67
Fencers $150.40
Fighters -$307.71
Fortress $23.23
Heralds $56.52
Leatherworkers Guild $33.00
Scribes $170.16
Travel Fund $504.84

Bank Total $11,059.55

The financial committee did not meet last month.

I would like to take this opportunity to note a few hints and tricks with regard to receipts and reimbursement that will make it easier and smoother:
1. Any reimbursement for any amount must be accompanied by a receipt of some sort.
~Preferably, the receipt will only have the items that need reimbursement on it.
~If the receipt has other items on it that are for personal or other uses or if you have a lot of receipts, I would like it greatly if you would organize them for me:
~NEVER write or highlight on an original receipt. Make a photocopy and write on that. Several receipts can go on one page, but please ensure that important parts (items, amounts, store, date) are visible. Highlighter and some pens ruin original receipts and prevent a person from being able to read them later. The receipts we get from grocery stores and most retail outlets are really not intended for long term survival. They are very delicate.
~Protect original receipts from heat - they blacken~Make photocopies early so that if the original gets messed up, I can still read it.
~Neatly black out or draw a line through items that you are not seeking reimbursement for or highlight items that you want ON THE PHOTOCOPY.
~Arrange receipts by type - these were for this meal, these were for paper goods, these were for decoration, etc.
~Any notes that you can give me on what each thing you bought was for would be useful - some people give me a recipe list and number each item and each

coordinating receipt, some people note which line item goes to which dish, some people separate receipts based on which meal they go to, just tell me a little about what it was for. I don't care what your system is as long as I can easily follow it. The less time I need to go through everything, the faster you get paid.
~If you can, please get me receipts in advance of needing the check so that I can have time to do due diligence and go through all of it. The more receipts you have, the more time I need. Some months following large events we have a lot of receipts all at once, and this is usually too much to do in an hour and a half long meeting while I'm supposed to be paying attention to other things.
~If you can, please fill out a check request form in advance of needing the check. This saves us all time.

Thank you, Caerthe, for your time and attention.

THL Ailleann inghean Fhiodhbhuidhe

Flanagan's Reign – by THLord Jethro
(To the tune of Finnegan's Wake)

Will Flanagan lived in Ravenhyrst
A smiling knight and mighty lord
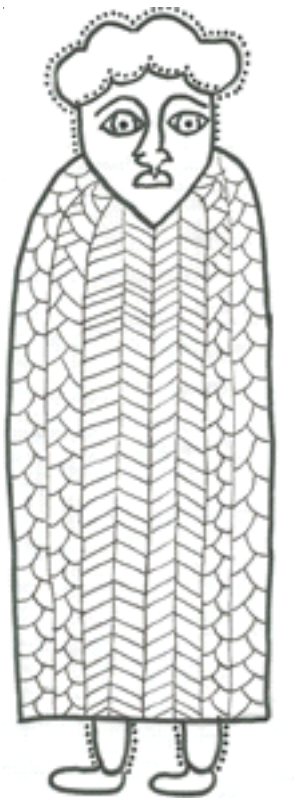
He had a shield so wide and large and to rise in the world he carried a sword
You see, he'd a sort of fighting way
With the love for the battle for Will was born
To help a man with his drills each day
a wrap to the helmet every morn.



CHORUS:
Whack to your squire
lance to your 'pponent
round the eric show your chain wasn't it the truth I told you lot's of fun in Flanagan's reign.

One Gulf War Bill got rather bold
He went to fight without his shield
He took a shot that broke his toe and the wound just wouldn't seem to heal
Yet they put him up on Tracker's steed
sent a pic to Atenveldt
An army of warriors at his heed
and arsenal of weapons on his belt

[chorus]

The Outlands rallied round their leige
and kept his enemies far away
It made a calm and quiet peace
so Bill could heal without delay
Then Baron Robert began to say
Such a nice clean peace did you ever see
What bloodletting shall I do this day
A lack of battle's not for me.

[chorus]

Baroness Slaine looking up exclaimed
Now Bobby, said she, you're wrong I'm sure
Robert then made a boastful claim and left her there to begin his war
Then Battlemoor did soon engage twas Caerthen friends vs. Al-barran scadian laws were all the rage
and a row and a ruction soon began.

[chorus]

The sound of steel clanged far and loud and soon it reached the Ardri's ears caring not if he was allowed
he began to raise the doctors' fears
William's coming see him run
William's dismounted Tracker's horse
Said "the whirl of battle's too much fun
What the hell, Let my wounds get worse!

[chorus]

Reprinted with permission from Russell Weisfield

Greetings,
